

Information Advice or Guidance TQUK Certificate Level 2

Course Overview

This nationally recognised qualification crosses all sectors and is a fantastic addition to your CV. During the course, you will explore the difference between giving advice, information, and guidance and where one stops and the other starts. You will need to reflect on your own role and experiences and the referral processes used, ensure you're gathering the right data and asking the right questions whilst communicating with people on different levels. On average the course takes 14 weeks to complete. The time frame depends on the time you have available and your prior knowledge. Whether working online or with paper materials you are supplied with all the information required to complete the course. The assessments are made up of questions asking you to describe, explain, identify or list information. To be able to pass this qualification answers must be in your own words, using sentences and paragraphs.

What you will learn

The learning materials are paper based and the qualification consists of the following units: - Information, advice or guidance in practice - Developing interaction skills for information advice or guidance - Signposting and referral in information, advice or guidance - Information, advice or guidance in context After enrolment, you are given 3 weeks for each submission, but if you require longer please contact the Distance Learning Team and they will happily agree on an extension with you. If you have chosen to complete the course online you will receive a welcome email from Equal, our online learning platform. On there you will see a guidance video explaining how the platform works and you will find your initial submission dates there too. If you have chosen to receive a paper pack these will be sent out to you once you have completed the online enrolment. Your pack will contain a guidance sheet and your submission dates along with information on how to submit your work. This is a distance learning course, meaning all work is completed from home. You do not attend any classes. However, this doesn't mean you can't access support. We have a team of dedicated tutors available to provide any support you might need along the way. Information for skills for advice providers: You will receive robust feedback from your tutor looking at how to further develop your understanding of the topic and progress academically.
